A black and white photograph of four young women standing in a grassy field. They are leaning over a horizontal wooden beam that supports a large banner. The banner has the words "MEADOW SCHOOL" printed on it in large, bold, black capital letters. The women are wearing dark, short-sleeved dresses or skirts. The background shows some trees and a utility wire stretching across the sky.

WAITERS AND WAITRESSES

HAT-CHECK GIRLS

On May 1, 1959, the Juniors honored the Seniors with the annual banquet and prom. While the guests enjoyed a delicious meal, they were entertained by the Waiters and Waitresses with a song, who looked very smart in their costumes of pale blue trimmed in silver.

It was a "RENDEZVOUS OF THE STARS" in a Dreamland of blue and silver. The guests entered through an archway of blue and silver as the band played "STAR DUST". Overhead hung hundreds of gold and silver stars from a sky of blue. The sky was met by clouds and clouds of white decorated by light blue stars.

The "Band" performed upon a white bandstand, which was encircled by a white picket fence. The fence was draped in silver streamers and spotted with red roses.

The ten-foot "STAIRWAY TO THE STARS" was silver and the sides were draped in silver streamers. Light blue angel hair, draped on the railing and steps, created a dreamy cloud effect. Thousands of tiny silver stars and a large silver moon at the top of the stairs added the finishing touch to the stairs. Two white floor flower baskets stood at each side of the stairs and were filled with white and blue flowers.

The seven cheerleaders, who gallantly and faithfully led our Indian teams through victories and defeats throughout the basketball season.
